Newsletter April 2022

Hello ,
We have got pension news for you.

Changes to the pension plan

The pension options expanded from January 1, 2022. Are you still accruing pension at SPF? Or did you do that in the past and you still have your pension at SPF? Read here to see all the changes.

Indexing pensions sooner?

Prices usually increase every year. For several months now, almost all products have been subject to above-average price rises. Every year, SPF looks to offset this annual rise in prices by increasing your pension – this is what we call 'indexation'. According to the current legislation related to indexation, a pension fund may index pensions if its policy funding level is 110% or above. Fortunately, we were able to grant partial indexation as of January 1, 2022. See the 'Pensions indexed as of January 1, 2022' article for more information.

Pensions indexed as of January 1, 2022

In February, the Board of SPF decided to partially increase pensions in 2022. We refer to this increase as 'indexation'.

What are your needs?

We would like to know how our members view our services and communication. And where we could improve. A research agency conducted the "Benchmark Monitor Pension Funds" (BMP) in spring 2021. This showed that members were generally satisfied with the fund (see the news item article on the website or in the October 2021 Newsletter for more information). Of course, there's also room for improvement.
What could be improved?
